

Video Presentation Now Available on "New Ethics Rules for Serving on Nonprofit Scientific Societies and Nonprofit Professional Associations"

On April 9th, the Director of the Office of Ethics conducted live webinar training entitled, "New Ethics Rules for Serving on Nonprofit Scientific Societies and Nonprofit Professional Associations." This training was specifically geared for those thinking about serving on outside boards and their supervisors. The presentation featured introductory remarks on Scientific Integrity delivered by Dr. Catherine Woteki, USDA's Under Secretary for Research, Education, and Economics. The Office of Ethics received excellent feedback on the training and, with the help of USDA's Virtual University, would like to make it available to those who were unable to attend in person or via the webinar.

The video recording of the session can be found here:
